PROFILE

Dedicated Web Developer with a passion of learning as much as I can in a lifetime. My hobbies include anything to do with computers, music composition, and art/design. After building my own computer when I was 15, I quickly became enthralled with technology. I enjoy working with teams, developing relationships with colleagues, and I am always looking to gain new skills to utilize in my work.

EXPERIENCE

STOCK CLERK, PUBLIX — 2018-PRESENT

At Publix I learned many useful life skills, including developing relationships with customers, large-scale organization, and working in groups to accomplish tasks. This fast-paced, strenuous work environment taught me the value of learning new skills and training new employees.

EDUCATION

Certificate Of Completion: Full Stack Web Development Bootcamp

University Of Central Florida, Orlando, FL

- Learned a variety of front & back end technologies that all used or were comparable with Javascript.

- Explored front end development by mastering HTML and CSS, using libraries like Bootstrap and Bulma, and working with React.

- Learned how to create a back end with Node.js, Express.js, and both SQL and NoSQL databases. Utilized and explored various npm packages to fit project needs.

- Worked on three different major group projects with teams of 4-5 people, completing fully functional web-apps in a 2 week period. Used GitHub to manage repositories and resolve issues.
